Synopsis

Yeshua Magdalena... The Greatest Love Story Never Told is the result of 12 years of my research into the real Yeshua Magdalena, a life long interest that was set ablaze from my first visit to the Languedoc France in 1999.

My book is a personal journey of self-discovery and remembering my connection to the Avataric couple Sri Isha (Yeshua or Jesus) and his wife and spiritual companion and equal, Mary Magdalena. Yeshua Magdalena is a personal account of my connection to Yeshua Magdalene which began when I was 7 years old and has continued to deepen since then, over the last 54 years.

Since the release of the best selling book, Holy Blood, Holy Grail in 1983 there have been many books released in which various authors gave their best theories of who the real Jesus and Mary Magdalene were. Some of these books have been researched by bible scholars like Margaret Starbird and some have been channelled.

My book is a non-channelled personal story and it offers a spiritual and 'spiritually scientific' way to connect with the real Yeshua Magdalena. It also shows the close connection between the Masters in both the Prophetic (Western) and Avataric (Eastern) lineages, hopefully helping to heal any karmic rifts and bridging the gap between the various isms (Christianity, Gnosticism, Buddhism, Hinduism, and Islam).

The CD that I have compiled with the book is a bonus feature that offers the reader much of the material I have gathered over the last 12 years of my physical presence in both India and in the Languedoc, a region of the south of France that is steeped in the Gnostic Yeshua and Magdalene lore.

Chapter Two – Deepening Your Own Connection Page 10

In chapter two I offer ways for the reader to establish a connection or deepen their already existing connection to the gnostic Yeshua (Jesus) and Mary Magdalena. These ways include being connected through our dreams, through meditation, through the Aramaic Lords Prayer, through connecting with God realized Masters currently living on the planet, and others.

Chapter Three - The Soul's Journey Begins Page 15

The full chapter is contained herein.

Chapter Four - Forgetfulness Page 18

This chapter describes getting caught up in the ways of the world and forgetting the fullness of our divine connection.

Chapter Five - Existing Not Living Page 21

In chapter five the reader gets to see the brain mechanisms in operation that prevent us from fully living and enjoying life. Chapter five describes a period in my life when I was going through the motions of life or just existing and not really living.

Chapter Six – Rays of Light Start to Dawn Page 28

Chapter six tells the story of the beginning of my conscious spiritual journey through joining an Edgar Cayce study group, getting involved in Gurdjieff exercises, and experiencing a profound dream with Yeshua that continues to help me overcome one of our greatest fears in life, the fear of death.

Chapter Seven - The Light Gets Stronger Page 33

In chapter seven I describe my brief experience with practicing Kundalini Yoga, meeting my first living meditation Master, an Avatar of Love, Sri Chinmoy, in a dream before I knew who he was, and later being physically initiated by him. I relate my repeated experience of meditating on a picture of Sri Chinmoy taken when he was in a very high state of consciousness known as Samadhi wherein his picture would turn into a picture of Yeshua. This chapter ends with Sri Chinmoy handing me over to the Egyptian Sufi tradition of Hazrat Inayat Khan and the Chisti Saints.

Chapter Eight – Santa Fe... the City of Holy Faith Page 48

In this chapter I describe my 17 years spent in Santa Fe developing my professional life as a naturopath specializing in Vibrational Healing. It was here that I immersed myself in the roots of the Chisti Sufi order that holds Melchizedek and Abraham as its first Murshids (Spiritual Guides), flowing through the Prophetic lineages of Moses, Solomon, Yeshua, Mohamed and into the present day.

Chapter Nine – The Cross to Bear

This chapter tells the story of the greatest cross I have had to bear in my life. It describes the nature and symbology of the cross and why the cross inevitable presents itself when we decide to embark on a conscious spiritual journey.

Chapter Ten - The Aboriginal Dream Land of OZ

This chapter describes my initiation into the International Fellowship of Isis, the Priest/Priestess lineage of Mary Magdalene and the Black Madonnas. And while living in the Dream Land of Australia I tell the story of being guided once again through a powerful dream and through a miracle to the Lotus Feet of a husband and wife team of Samporna (complete) Avatars. Through a personal meeting with Sri Bhagavan, through another powerful miracle, and through another powerful dream I was shown my destiny of sharing the Christ Consciousness with humanity to help prepare us all for the Great Shift of the Ages coming soon to our Beautiful Mother Earth.

Ways of Knowing

With over 2000 years of history behind us it is not possible to know with certainty the detailed history of Yeshua<sup>1</sup> and his wife and spiritual partner Mary Magdalena<sup>2</sup>.

If we don't even know the truth of a major event in recent recorded history, how can we really know what happened when Yeshua and the Magdalene walked the earth 2000 years ago? That recent event that I just referred to was the infamous World Trade Center bombing of September 11, 2001.

Powerful forces<sup>3</sup> have hidden the truth of September 11 and powerful forces hid the real story of Yeshua and the Magdalene<sup>4</sup> 2000 years ago and have continued to hide and distort the truth during the years in between 5BC and today.

The best way for us to really know what transpired in the lives of the great Master and his wife is to have a direct connection with them, be able to communicate with them like we would speak to our closest friend, and get the answers to our questions directly from their lips or telepathically transmitted to our brains or hearts.

This connection only develops from continuous acts of divine Grace that would enable the beneficiary to receive and be able to comprehend the message given by the great Master and his wife, whom Yeshua and the Gnostic Gospels recognized as the Woman who knew the All and the Apostle to the apostles.

His story (history) over the last 5000 years of patriarchy is exactly that... it is the male dominated story of the ruling elite. Whatever the position the ruling party that controlled the media wanted us to believe, that was the story we were fed. And this politically correct position would be defended many times to the death of those dissenting.

Neurobiologically dominated by the senses and our identification with them, we have formulated our opinions about the real story of Yeshua and the Magdalene based on many falsehoods that were fed to us by those protecting vested interests. To perpetuate and protect those falsehoods those in power have even resorted to war and killed those who did not hold their belief about the Master and his teachings.

<sup>1</sup> Yeshua is the name that the Master was known by as he walked the land of ancient Palestine. I don't know when the word Jesus became popular. The Master was recognized as a Prophet of God 700 years later in the Koran where he is called Isa. The Koran is a revelation of God's teachings given to the Prophet Mohammed by the Archangel Gabriel. In the mystical aspects of Islam (a word meaning surrender) Yeshua is spoken of as 'Ruh Allah' or the Breath of God. He is also recognized in India as an Avatar or incarnation of God. Yeshua was known as Sri Isha (Issa) while he was still alive travelling and teaching in India. See Cha. 15 to read some of research.

<sup>2</sup> The image of Yeshua Magdalena is taken from the stained glass window by Stephen Adam at Kilmore Church in Scotland. When you look carefully at the full image, you will see a pregnant Magdalene. The name Magdalene and Magdalena are interchangeable. Go to: http://www.bhagavandharma.org/France.htm#Gaynels\_Gifts

<sup>3</sup> Let the reader explore Architects & Engineers for 911 Truth by going to their website: <http://www.ae911truth.org/> for guidance in this area.

<sup>4</sup> The expression 'the Magdalene' is most often used in reference to an area that has been connected to Mary Magdalena, an area known as Migdal in ancient Israel.

As the Holy Master was crucified, along with many of his disciples, also many of the later followers of Yeshua and the Magdalene have been 'crucified' unto death during the Albigenian crusades and at other times in recorded His story.

The second best way of knowing the truth about YeshuaMagdalena<sup>5</sup> is to use the instrument that humanity has been given by the divine to discern the truth. This is the human spiritual heart<sup>6</sup> or heart chakra; when our spiritual heart flowers, then our intuition flowers. When our intuition flowers, we can feel the truth inwardly whenever we hear it. The spiritual heart is like a truth meter. God willing, the full development of the human spiritual heart will lead to the direct perception of truth and our ability to directly communicate with Yeshua and the Magdalene.

The third and most common way of knowing is to read what is out there concerning Yeshua and the Magdalene and to notice when your spiritual heart has been stirred by the author's words. This stirring is an indication to you that what you have just taken in rings your truth bell. It's a signal to pay attention and you can safely follow its guidance.

There is another way of knowing and this is through our dreams. This way is also a good way of knowing Yeshua and the Magdalene personally. Dreams, especially the revelatory kind, bypass our conscious mind which so often filters out higher truth, especially if that higher truth runs counter to our consciously held outer beliefs.

Some dreams are simply the re-machinations of our conscious minds activities and information so our heart's discernment is once again being called upon to help us recognize truth from falsehood (greater truth from lesser truth, greater light from lesser light).

Information on Yeshua and the Magdalene has come to light from two other sources in the modern era. These are the realms of channelling and from the therapeutic realm of past life regression. Some individuals who have gone through past life regression have revealed past life memories where they have been connected in some way with Yeshua and/or the Magdalene. Their stories make for insightful, valuable, and fascinating reading.

And finally, there is a lot of information out there about Yeshua and the Magdalene which has come through those individuals who were graced with the ability to read the Akashic Records<sup>7</sup>. Whatever humanity has thought, felt, experienced, and lived has left an indelible impression in the realm of subtle matter known as the Akash. The Hebrew sages called the Akashic Records the Book of God's Remembrances. These records are there eternally and may be accessed by the reader through divine Grace. You must still use discernment in the outer Akashic realm as well.

<sup>5</sup> Written this way the expression YeshuaMagdalena reveals the recognition that the consciousness of the Master was on the same level as the consciousness of the Magdalene and vice versa. In YeshuaMagdalena we have Christ the Logos united with Christ the Sophia. The divine consciousness was expressing itself as the divine masculine through Yeshua and the divine feminine through Mary Magdalena. Two beings in appearance are one at the highest levels of divine Consciousness.

<sup>6</sup> From the understanding of subtle anatomy, our physical heart is intimately connected to and governed by our heart chakra (called Anahata in Sanskrit). The full flowering of our heart chakra leads to our direct experience of the unconditional Love of the divine. The Anahata chakra is also the energy center of compassion, mercy, magnanimity, intuition, tolerance, and forgiveness. Recently the science of HeartMath™ (see bonus pdfs on the CD or <http://www.bhagavandharma.org/pdf-documents/HeartMath.pdf>) has taught that our biological heart has its own 'brain' consisting of around 40,000 neurites (specialized nerve cells), that it has up to 5000 times more magnetic power than our brain and that it has up to 60 times more electrical force than our brain. These qualities of our physical heart reflect our heart chakra's power to integrate and transform our life. Our antaryamin or Higher Sacred Self is seated on the throne of our heart chakra.

<sup>7</sup> The realm of the Akashic Records came strongly into human consciousness in the modern era through the work of Edgar Cayce, known popularly as the Sleeping Prophet. Cayce would go into trance to deliver his over 20,000 'life readings'. This trance state bypassed his conscious mind and his conditioning as a Sunday school teacher and the son of a minister.

In all realms, and all information coming from those realms, you will find individuals delivering the real gold as well as those who deliver imitation gold through their Akashic Record readings. As long as the separate self<sup>8</sup> is operating in the individual there is the possibility of distortion, fabrication, embellishment, and outright falsehood. Again, the application of the truth meter of the developed heart chakra will serve to guide and protect you here as well.

Being aware of all these many ways of knowing Yeshua and the Magdalene, let us now move forward on the eternal journey of the soul<sup>9</sup> from falsehood to Truth, from darkness into Light, and from death to Immortality.

TOC

My poem expressing this eternal journey of the soul entitled Sat Chit Ananda is on the next page.

<sup>8</sup> All spiritual traditions recognize and distinguish two selves... the real or true Self, also called the Higher Sacred Self or antaryamin, which is a non-self that exists outside of time and space, beyond the realm of the senses, and is eternally free of all matter and mind; and the false self which various traditions call ego, personalities and sub-personalities, our corrupted nature, the Sufi term 'nafs', and the separate self. This false self is caught in the illusion (maya) of personal suffering, personal pain, personal story, and false identification with the ancient mind which is dominating our senses. This false self is our sense of "the me" and "the not me", the sense that I exist as an isolated, separated, continuous person distinct from all other persons. Continued next page...

There are neurobiological mechanisms in the brain which have to do with our overactive 'Orientation Association Area' in our parietal lobes and with the speed that our brain co-ordinates the senses that perpetuates this sense of ego separation and personal identity; by any and all effort of this false I, the ego sense, one can not free oneself from this I. All effort only makes the sense of this separate I stronger. It is something like Einstein's quote in which he states, "We can't solve problems by using the same kind of thinking we used when we created them."

The separate self is not wrong or evil or bad. There is great value and usefulness in having our separate self. It has been created by God. However the separate self is not the instrument that we can use to deeply connect to the spiritual dimensions where we may encounter YeshuaMagdalene directly (through gnosis or the direct perception of Truth).

<sup>9</sup> I am defining the soul as a very subtle body or vehicle that allows our non-material spirit, or essence, to function while we are embodied here on earth.

Sat Chit Ananda<sup>10</sup>

Turning, turning in an Infinite Loving Sun
Soaring, soaring, like a Golden Eagle sent from the One.
Millennia come and millennia go
The time of Harvest Rains is here now to sow.
Seen in Vision since hoary past
Magnanimity, Compassion manifests fully on Mother Earth at last!
Play your role, the time has come
There is much work still to be done.
Guidance is sure, the Goal is won
The Mother's Grace along with Father's and Son...
Sat Chit Ananda is here now for everyone.

Chapter Three

The Soul's Journey in This Life Begins

“Onward Christian soldiers, marching as to war, with the cross of Jesus, onward ever more...”

I was seven years old. I was in an Episcopalian church... a place where you would not often find me<sup>11</sup>. I was in a pew filled mostly with adults. These adults all seemed to be kind, happy and safe enough, especially when they were singing joyously. I felt comfortable in their presence.

We were all singing the words written above. Something inside me was stirred by those words. I did not know why this was so at the time. One childish connection was that my last name was March and I would often happily repeat the expression, March... hup one, two, three, four... as I would strut forward moving my arms like a soldier. The word marching reminded me of my own name.

I turned to the woman singing next to me. Our eyes met in the singing. It was the first time I remember when something like an electric shock went through my body. In that moment when our eyes met I became very conscious of what I now know is the realm of spirit.

On most Sundays and on most other days when I was not in school, you would find me out side of buildings, outside in nature, out side of words, out running wild, flying in my imagination, like the birds I so loved to watch endlessly. I climbed a lot of trees. I ran almost everywhere, that is, when I was not riding my trusty bike.

Anything to feel free... anything to sense freedom... anything that brought joy; nature, movement, and the sense of joyous freedom was my real church. It still is. I found out many years later that my mother used to harness me on the porch of my grandmother's house in Bath New York to prevent me from running across the road, running down the family dock, and jumping into the lake. There was a very strong charge in my psyche around this harnessing that would later have to be defused.

A realization would dawn much later in my being that this charge was running my life and was preventing me from really being free. Instead of always resisting and fighting what I perceived to be outer limitation I would eventually learn to release the inner charge of stuck emotion that had kept me from manifesting my true potential and achieving real success in life. I was caught in personal suffering and the habituated ways that early trauma was expressing itself. As a result, I was blocking the dawning of true happiness in my life. I now know that happiness is the essential nature of our true self. When we feel this inner happiness, that is independent of outer circumstances, it reminds us of our true home, where we have come from.

School had started for me a year ago. My first grade class was right across the street from where I lived with my sister Sarah, my brother James, and my mother Sophia. Our dad was nicknamed Sunny. His given name was also James, like my brother. He had died a few years before. After his death we had all moved from Bath upstate New York to Northport Long Island New York.

<sup>11</sup> Our mother Sophia was not very religious so she never forced us to go to church. I did however learn the Ten Commandments and study the four gospels, was confirmed, had acted as an alter boy, and sang in the church choir while I was young. This outer experience also contributed to my life time love of the Master, his teachings, and his disciples.

Our dad had left the family about a half year before he died. I don't remember much about him. He died when I was about two and a half. Our mom hardly ever spoke of him. She carried the burden of his abandonment secretly. She never shared that load with her children, at least not consciously. As children we somehow thought it was normal not to have a father around the house.

My first grade teacher Miss Moran was my first "puppy love"... my first fantasized romantic venture beyond experiencing the love of my mom. She was very beautiful and very kind. She was my secret love. I don't know if she even knew I was enamoured by her beauty, her smile, and her smell. She never knew that I used to go back into her room after school was out, go into her closet and smell her shoes. I used to love the smell of her shoes. Later, the reason for this strange love of feet would be revealed.

My other love was comic books... but this was no secret. Whenever our mom gave us our weekly allowance for completing our household chores I would go out and immediately spend it on candy and comic books. I would hop on my trusty black and blue Schwinn Racer, whose name was embellished in flame-like red letters, and fly down the streets in Northport to the local Five and Dime store and purchase the latest instalment of Superman comics.

Superman could fly... something that I always felt I would do someday... physically fly under my own power and not in an airplane!<sup>12</sup> Superman would stop the bad guys. In Bath I had already encountered my first hero, Lash Larue, on television. Lash Larue rode a white horse and had a long black bull whip which he would use to stop the bad guys.

There was a bully in our neighbourhood where we used to live. My fear of him had almost cost the tip of my thumb when I was five years old. Running away from him, I closed our thick wooden front door on my thumb. I wanted to stop his bullying but lacked the courage and the equipment of Lash Larue to do it myself.

As all lovers of Superman will remember, Superman's alter-ego was Clark Kent, a mild mannered reporter for a great metropolitan newspaper. Superman came to the earth with powers and abilities far beyond those of mortal man. Faster than a speeding bullet, more powerful than a locomotive, and able to leap tall buildings in a single bound... He was my hero and I definitely had my eyes on the sky.

Flying dreams started when I was about 7 or 8 years old. At that young age they were always connected to my fear of death. The theme of a repetitive dream saw me running away from the boogie man. He started chasing me inside my house or inside some building. I would run away, many times with the feeling of running through thick molasses, way to slow to feel certain that I was getting away.

I usually left my house or another building out the back door, running across the back yard, would have to jump a fence or two, and then I would start to fly. The boogie man could also fly and would still chase me through the air. I always forced myself to awaken just in time to prevent the boogie man from capturing and killing me. Although it occurred less often as I got older, this dream would continue to present itself in my psyche till I was around 30 years old.
